

<https://internshipca.online/job/national-geographic-internships/>

National Geographic Internships 2026 / 2027 New Hiring

Description

National Geographic is seeking highly motivated and passionate individuals to join our internship program. As a National Geographic intern, you will have the opportunity to work with some of the world's most talented and dedicated professionals in the fields of photography, journalism, science, conservation, and more. This internship is a unique opportunity to gain hands-on experience in a dynamic and mission-driven organization.

Responsibilities

- Collaborative Projects: Work closely with experienced professionals on a variety of projects spanning journalism, photography, research, conservation, and educational outreach.
- Research and Analysis: Conduct research and analysis to support ongoing projects and initiatives, contributing to our commitment to understanding and preserving the natural world.
- Content Creation: Contribute to the creation of engaging content, including articles, multimedia presentations, and social media updates, helping us tell compelling stories that resonate with our global audience.
- Fieldwork: Depending on the department, participate in fieldwork and expeditions, gaining firsthand experience in exploration, conservation, and adventure.
- Professional Development: Attend workshops, seminars, and networking events to enhance your skills and gain insights into various aspects of our organization's work.
- Collaboration: Collaborate with colleagues from diverse backgrounds and expertise, fostering a dynamic and inclusive work environment.

Qualifications

- Currently enrolled in a degree program (undergraduate or graduate) related to the department of interest (e.g., journalism, photography, environmental science, education, marketing).
- Strong interest in and passion for the mission and values of National Geographic.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.
- Demonstrated ability to work in a collaborative team environment.
- Strong organizational and time-management skills.
- Proficiency in relevant software and tools, depending on the department.

Job Benefits

- Hands-on Experience: Gain valuable experience working in a renowned organization in the fields of exploration, storytelling, and conservation.
- Networking: Connect with professionals in your area of interest and build valuable relationships in your chosen field.
- Learning Opportunities: Access to a wide range of resources,

Hiring organization

National Geographic

Employment Type

Intern

Duration of employment

3 Months

Industry

Book and Periodical Publishing

Job Location

Toronto, Ontario, Canada, 416,
Toronto, Ontario, Canada

Working Hours

09

Date posted

August 14, 2026

Valid through

10.10.2028

workshops, and seminars to enhance your skills and knowledge.

- Inspiring Environment: Work in a collaborative and inspiring environment where your contributions are valued and celebrated.
-

Contacts

1. Visit the National Geographic Careers Page: Go to the National Geographic careers website. You can typically find internship opportunities listed under the “Internships” or “Career Opportunities” section of their website. The specific URL may vary, so you can search for it online.
2. Browse Available Internship Positions: Look through the list of available internship positions to find one that aligns with your interests and career goals. Each internship listing will include details about the department, responsibilities, qualifications, and duration.
3. Prepare Your Application Materials: Before applying, gather the necessary documents and materials, which typically include:
 - A resume or CV highlighting your relevant education, skills, and experiences.
 - A cover letter expressing your interest in the internship and explaining why you are a suitable candidate.
 - Any additional materials requested in the internship posting, such as writing samples or a portfolio for creative positions.
4. Complete the Online Application: Click on the specific internship listing you are interested in to access the online application form. Follow the instructions provided to complete the application. This may involve creating an account on their application portal.
5. Submit Your Application: Upload your resume, cover letter, and any additional materials as specified in the application form. Review your application for accuracy and completeness before submitting it.
6. Follow-Up and Contact Information: Ensure that you provide accurate contact information, including an active email address and phone number. National Geographic may use this information to communicate with you regarding your application.
7. Application Deadline: Be mindful of the application deadline. Submit your application well before the closing date to ensure it is considered.
8. Interview and Selection Process: If your application is shortlisted, you may be contacted for an interview or further evaluation. Be prepared to discuss your qualifications, experiences, and why you are interested in interning with National Geographic.
9. Wait for a Response: After the interview, or upon completing any additional evaluation steps, wait for a response from National Geographic regarding the status of your application. This may take some time, so be patient.
10. Acceptance and Onboarding: If you are selected for an internship, you will receive an offer letter outlining the terms of your internship. Follow the provided instructions for onboarding, including any paperwork, orientation, or training requirements.